The Prez Sez:

Here we go gang!

Another year in front of us, new challenges and adventures, new ways to have fun, some new friends I'm sure, new places to go...and new officers?

Yeah...new officers, elections are just around the corner and we need to get some new interest going here, aren't you tired of the same old faces and don't you want some fresh ideas to consider? I know some of you out there have good ideas and the ability to lead us towards more and new fun adventures. Come on ... let's do it! All you need to do is let us know and you will get on the ballot. What do you have to lose?

2010 is gone and it sure seemed like a short year to me. Guess maybe they all do anymore. "Where does the time go"? I used to hear my folks say that. I thought back then it was pretty obvious where time went. Now I know what they meant.

Time is just rushing by. Hard to get everything done you want to get done, and there are more things stacking up and no time to do any of it. Seems I just get started dinking around and it's time to stop for lunch or something!

Where DOES the time go?

This past year had its challenges; some of us were challenged pretty seriously. We had loved ones, friends and family with health issues, and that of course gave us cause to stop and consider what is really important to us all. Good health and our friends top that list. I want to take this opportunity to wish you all continued good health in the coming years. Take care of yourselves; good friends like you are non-replaceable!

So let's have a great year, a healthy year, an adventurous year, a year full of fun and friends. We have some good putt ideas in the cooker, and I bet there's something were planning that you will enjoy.

Thanks to all of you for a super 2010, now let's get em rev-en for 2011!!!.

Hotrodders Prayer by Jan Olmstead

Dear Lord,

Thank You for hotrodders and the time we have with them.

Hotrodders are truly an example of when God gives a passion, they share that passion with others.

Something magical happens when the hood is lifted or the garage door is open.

Men of all ages come together. That's when the magic happens - a conversation, a story, a uniting.

Uniting in one universal fascination - under the hood.

Most women don't get "it", but have witnessed it, the flocking to what's - under the hood.

Our prayer today is that those hotrodders continue to share what's - under the hood.

Reaching out to other men and boys in their life, in their neighborhood.

Sharing the magic that is - under the hood. Igniting the passion, igniting the imagination, igniting the conversation - under the hood.

It reminds of the old days when boys followed their fathers around the farm, learning from them how to do chores and be a man.

Lord, there are so many young men in our city that could use some comfort, support and understanding that comes from - under the hood.

Help these hotrodders to continue the legend, the lessons, the conversations with those in need of time - under the hood.

God Bless you all and may you continue to enjoy the time - under the hood.

The original message was written by Paula Kane then changed in part by Jan Olmstead.

And from Jan:

My husband, Ron, is an answer to this prayer as he mentors men and boys of all ages - under the hood. I answer the many phone calls daily which I transfer to him. Rarely are they for me.

Our home has a constant stream of hotrodders seeking answers to problems or just wanting to chat about things - under the hood.

And, those same hotrodders were there for Ron in his time of need after his heart attack and surgery. I am thankful for all the hotrodders that were there for me also when I needed them. I'm a woman who understands those guys who are always - under the hood.
