Good-Guys November 2014

Wow, and then some... It just keeps getting bigger, and bigger, and better I hope. Once again record numbers on all days; Thursday over 300 cars for the tour. Friday over 2600 cars on site by 12 Noon. Sat over 3000 cars. Sunday biggest Super Sunday car turn out yet. I never got a definitive car count number for the weekend. I heard things like 3400 but nothing official. I believe we also had a record number of people attend the buffet on Saturday afternoon.

Saturday they ran out of spectator parking, and we ran out of show car parking. We had the gates closed down by the Scottsdale Fire marshal while the field was checked. They called in 100 more cars and we were done. I think about 200 went in after that. Of course the usual Saturday afternoon exit started early also so we were saved from totally closing the entrance gates.

As some of you were witness to, the Friday morning car gate was a problem. The vendors were especially confused and wanted to argue their case, each and every one of them. Compounded by the lack of an exit lane we had our hands full until that got corrected. Even then the vendors were more difficult this time than previous years, as I recall anyway. I sure wish there was a separate gate for vendors it would make our life easier. The field parking was organized as well as could be expected. On top we struggled keeping cars where they were supposed to be on Saturday, but it wasn't bad. Sunday awards went like clock-work. And the Sunday awards circle parking also went smoothly.

I can't say it enough you guys really rocked it, we had a record number of people who couldn't make it on Sat to work. I panicked for a short time, but you just pitched in and we got it covered. Thanks

I think we need to change up on just a few things, like an official sign up for buffet helpers and swap meet helpers. Also maybe our parking squads need to be re-defined so we have people to cover both sides of the top area. Looks like that's going to be standard procedure from now on, special parking on both sides.

Thanks for all you do you're the best!

PARTY AT ALAN AND CHERYL MITCHELL'S

We had a wonderful time at Alan and Cheryl's lovely home last month. Cheryl cooked for days on the pork chops, turkey green chili and lots of other food. It was also a pot luck so the appetizers and deserts were all there.

It was a beautiful day, lots of good conversations going on. It was club members, friends and family.

Thank you for putting on the putt.
